

Darling Homes Invites Home Buyers to Join in the Fun During the Art of Living Festival at Cross Creek Ranch

Houston Home Builder Invites Houston Residents to Shop the Arts Festival and Tour Its Latest Community.

Houston, TX, October 10, 2013 --(PR.com)-- The Art Market at Cross Creek Ranch is welcoming more than 30 local artists statewide and several festive food booths to the “Art of Living Festival” on October 12 where shoppers can browse and purchase pieces to complement their new home from Darling Homes.

The festival runs from 10 p.m. to 4 p.m., giving shoppers an opportunity to find just the right items to complement their new purchase from Darling Homes, which will soon debut its new Lakes community.

“The Art Market Festival gives residents the opportunity to own one-of-a-kind work for their homes created by local craftsmen whose work reflects a variety of artistic styles,” said Shannon Vining, marketing manager for Darling Homes' Houston division. “We love the commitment of artisan craftsmen. In many ways, their work represents how we approach each home we build.”

The Texas lifestyle is celebrated at Cross Creek Ranch in Fulshear, where a sense of community is created with the green lawns and trees of Flewellen Creek Park and Arbor Park, the scenic hike and bike trails at Cross Creek Ranch Fitness Center and over lunch at Essence Cafe. Children can splash and enjoy the many water features at the on-site Adventure Island Water Park and take the dog to play at the Canine Commons.

Cross Creek Ranch homes will include spacious single-family homes built on large lots that accommodate luxurious lifestyles with Darling Homes' unique combination of outdoor living, incredible amenities and quality designs.
